DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-16, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a mixture of an active macromolecular principle, aromatic absorption enhancer, and a solubilization aid.

Group II, claim(s) 17-27, drawn to use of an aromatic alcohol in the manufacture of a medicament.

Group III, claim(s) 28, drawn to a method of enhancing the absorption of an active macromolecular principle.

Group IV, claim(s) 29, drawn to a method of treating a patient suffering from a disease.

2. The inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the inventions lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The MPEP states if an independent claim does not avoid the prior art, then the question whether there is still an inventive link between all the claims dependent on that claim needs to be carefully considered. Here the independent claim, 1 is not free of the prior art. Together, New et al (WO 02/28436), and Wong et al (USPN 6,342,249) render obvious the claimed invention. While, New et al provide a pharmaceutical composition comprising a mixture of an active principle, aromatic alcohol, and a solubilization agent, Wong et al provide the use of butylated hydroxyl toluene, butylated hydroxyl anisole and analogues thereof.

3. This application contains claims 17-27 that provide for the use of the aromatic alcohol in the manufacture of a medicament, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. Further, the dependent claims 24-27 recite further limitations on the composition comprising the aromatic alcohol of the independent claim 17. Accordingly, claims 17-27 are being further treated on the merits as being drawn to the aromatic alcohol.

However if the applicant objects to the treatment of claims 17-27 as a product claim, the applicant can amend the claim and request that the claim be considered in one of the groups discussed above.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The macromolecular principle in claim 9, the aromatic alcohol absorption enhancers in claims 10-11, solubilization aids in claim 12, and other combinations of macromolecular principle, aromatic alcohol and solubilization aids not specifically recited in the claims.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the shared technical feature is rendered obvious by New et al (WO 02/28436), and Wong et al (USPN 6,342,249).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single group and a single species encompassed by that group i.e., the macromolecular principle, aromatic alcohol absorption enhancer and solubilization aid must be defined specifically, to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
